

Discover the University

The Euro-Mediterranean University (EMUNI) was Established in 2008 on the Slovenian coast, at the crossroads between the Mediterranean, Central Europe, and the Balkans. Its vocation is to promote cooperation and dialogue between Euro-Mediterranean higher education and research institutions. Currently it attracts students from many Mediterranean countries and counts up to 138 Higher Education Institutions among its partners. Immersed in the breathtaking beauty of the Slovenian coastal city of Piran, EMUNI benefits from the cultural and historical richness of both border regions. EMUNI supplies its students with the knowledge to venture into the world and realise their full potential. Make port at EMUNI in the journey to your future career.

Euro-Mediterranean University
Kidričevo nabrežje 2, 6330 Piran, Slovenia
Tel. +386 59 25 00 57
www.emuni.si | education@emuni.si

The Benefits

A young, agile, international, institution that understands the needs of its student

High quality international faculty

An education tailored on your needs

A wide range of mobility options to study abroad and train professionally

Dedicated staff that will assist in personalising your learning experience

A springboard towards a rewarding career with highly professionalising study programmes

A vast network of partners in academia, civil society and business to help you gain practical experience

Accessible living situation, low cost of living and many benefits for students in Slovenia

Truly cosmopolitan classrooms with people from diverse backgrounds

A unique location that allows a full immersion in nature and history

Partial and full scholarships

Blended Learning

Ever since 2015 EMUNI has implemented Blended Learning methods in its programmes. Such teaching methodology is what allows our institution to provide smart and flexible study programmes that students can personalise according to their needs. Blended learning involves a mix of virtual and in-person modules that allow students to plan their education around their lives and careers. Blended learning represents the best of both worlds as students will gain IT skills and flexibility without sacrificing social life, new encounters and discovery. Through the now tried and tested method of blended learning, EMUNI has been ahead of the digitalisation curve in promoting innovation, flexibility, autonomy, adaptability and durability. In a contemporary labour market in which demand is constantly shifting, EMUNI is an opportunity to update your skill set and give a boost to your career without giving up on your other engagements.

Intercultural Business Communication

This master's programme hones the necessary skills to efficiently support the communication of market actors (enterprises and non-profit organisations). The master's is structured around the command of languages, the latest approaches to business administration, and include internet marketing strategies. Students train their intercultural dialogue soft skills and learn to communicate comfortably and effectively across different cultures. This master will provide you with a robust knowledge of the specificities of business in the Euro-Mediterranean region and beyond. As an added value, you will gain communication and interpersonal skills and gain the confidence to assume managerial responsibilities. As a student, your journey will not stop at EMUNI. You will benefit from traineeships and study mobilities throughout our Universities' extended network of partner universities and private entities. you will be able to customize your education and build the professional path that best suits your ambition.

Duration: 2 years

Credits: 120

Teaching language: English

Mode: Blended learning

Info: ibc@emuni.si

Courses

- English language
- French or Italian Language
- English Culture
- French or Italian Culture
- Intercultural Negotiations
- Internet Marketing
- Intercultural Marketing
- History of Socio-Economic Global Processes
- Cultural Anthropology
- Gender History
- Web Content Management
- International Business Communication
- Internationalization Strategies
- Internship

Kinesiology of Human Performance

This Postgraduate Master's mission and vision is to train the next generation of healthcare and research professionals. Graduates will meet the highest international standards in the disciplines of kinesiology, sports, biomedical technology nutrition and ergonomics. Born of the partnership of EMUNI and the Science and Research Centre in Koper, the Master's in Kinesiology of Human performance blends innovative holistic approaches to healthcare and the latest technologies. The master's blend of disciplines will equip students with the tools to practice and conduct research at international level. Graduates of the KHP master will be at the forefront of a new generation of practitioners with the knowledge to care for individuals, but also to advise on healthy environments and overall sustainable lifestyles.

Courses

- Biophysical foundations of human movement
- Physiology of physical activity in interaction with the environment through labour and profession
- Neuromuscular control, ageing and disease,
- Biomechanics – movement analysis,
- Motor skills within a specific work environment
- Development of aerobic and anaerobic skills
- Nutrition and physical activity
- Health, wellbeing and physical activity
- Research methodologies in physical activity
- Social dimensions of physical activity
- Psychological dimensions of physical activity
- Humanistic dimensions of physical activity
- Free time and recreation
- Critical thinking and the study of professional kinesiology and related literature
- Interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary aspects of Kinesiology

Duration: 2 years

Credits: 120 ECTS

Teaching language: English

Info: khp@emuni.si